of national Policy on education (NPE) 1986, the NCERT brought out in 1988, a National Curricular Framework for elementary and secondary education, revised the entire school syllabi and brought out revised textbooks for classes I to XII. Based on the Framework and the syllabi and textbooks brought out by the NCERT, the States and Union Territories have also undetaken measures of curriculum renewal and development of new text-books for different stages of school education for their introduction into the school system in a phased manner and in a few States, the process is still on. According to the NCERT, they have not received any objection to the idea of a national curricular framework with a common core from any State or UT.
